I am of opinion that at least five handred baskets a day are thrown over the Praya Wall. The effect of nunishing he coolies has apparently been to increase the number of rubbish boats, as during the last week . Lave noticed more than formerly. Between the Sailors' Home and Pedder's Whar! I have count ed eleven rubbish boats. If this number were kept up it would meet the purposes of the goolies. The rubbish boats are paid on the principle of so much per cubic foot of rubbish removed. When a rubbish boat is full, if that of a private contractor, it must be taken out to sea. It is often the case that their contents are emptied into the harbour and this would be invariably the case unless they happened to be detected in the act. In the case of Government rubbish boats each boats when full is inspecied by me. Its contents are measured and entered in a book, and according to the measurement is the pay. If the rubbish is fit for the purpose it is supposed to be taken to Kennedytown and used there for reclamation purposes. I am unable to say whether the rubbish I pass reaches there or not. I happen to know in one case that came to my notice accidentally that a boat left with 40 cub, yard, and arrived at Kennedytown with only 10 cab. yd. The other 30 Cub. yds. had been dumped in the harbour. When I say the rubbish must taken out to sea I understand that it must be taken out to the neighbourhood of Onarry Bay. The rubbish boats are propelled both by oars ex parte for leave to appeal against the decision and sails. The shorter the distance the boats have to go, the quicker they can do it and the more money they can make. The only rubbish I complain of is the rubbish deposited along the Praya. I cease to have anything to do with it fendants. Samuel and Reuben, were brokers in lafter it has left the Praya Wall. When oncomes to look at that aspect of the case, the evidence shows a grave state of things prevailing, as by removing or stopping one evil, that. is depositing ov r the Praya, Wall a new evil is being created by employing rubbish boats who domp it in the harbour. The whole case is one of considerable difficulty and, I think the best course I can take now is to forward these depositions to the Government in order that something may be done if it is thought necessary, to prevent it. I should like it to be stated in the bulletin that theble and shrinking though the trade is, "while there is life there is hope." the trade recovers, it will, after all, not be more wonderful than the reaction that set in in the Sugar Trade eighteen months ago, or in the Coffee trade the year before that. But I cantion you not to reckon on it. The only possible chance of such a contingency lies in a mishap in India or Caylon, and this, from the known hardy nature of the Tea plant, is most improbable. I will conclude with a word about my views for the coming season. I believe that ventures: entered into in the early weeks of the season will be exceedingly risky unless at fully 25 per cent under the prices paid in your market in July and August last. and after that a further reduction should be made. Do not swamp the market with large cargoes, and let the Export come forward in hundreds of tons, not thousands. And recollect that if you send us 18 millions of lbs. for the year, you will be overloading us, considering what our stocks are.

The Editor of the Echo deprecates the pessimistic strain of the foregoing letter and while admitting that prospects lock bad, hope that the unexpected may happen and the depression in the Tea trade be removed.

"My goodness gracious!" said Mrs. Bilkins "what was that terrible racket?" I don't know," replied her husband. "I guess it must have been the temperature falling. A life of the Rev. J G. Wood, the naturalist has been written by his son, the Rev. Theofore Wood. Wood's place as a naturalist has been happily indicated in a description of him as "an Oliver Goldsmith with knowledge."

An express package recently arrived at the German Consulate of New York for Poultney Bigelow, the author of the article on the German army in the April number of the Cosmopolitan Magazine. When opened it proved to be two large volumes, handsomely bound, one of them inscribed in the handwriting of the young Emperor. The inscription was affectionate, and · proved that a man engaged in the cares, of great empires can turn aside and recollect the friends shops of his youth.

A colonel of the French army who had a great eye for neatness, but not much of an earfor music took occasion one day to compliment his band-master on the appearance of his men "Their uniforms are nest" said the colonel, "and their instruments are nicely poliched and kept in order, but there is one improvement that I must insist upon." "What is it, colonel?" "You must train your men when they perform to lift their fingers all at exactly the same time and at regular intervals on their instruments, "so —one, two! one, two!"

A worthy clergyman, in a town not fur from Boston, is very absent-minded, and has a short memory. It is a common habit with him in the pulpit to forget something, and then, after sitting down, to rise up, and commence his suppiementary remarks with the expression, "By the way." A few Sundays ago he got half though a prayer, when he hesitated, forgot what he was about, and sat down abruptly, without closing. In a moment or two he arose, and, pointing his fore-finger at the amazal congregation, he said, "Oh by the way, Amen !"

News has been received in Calcutta of the discovery of a gold-bearing tract in Chile, portions of which have yielded 7,000 ounces per ton These autounding results, it is said, do not represent laboratory experiments on small parcels of stuff by assignra: they have been serived at in the course of practical mining on the spot. The auriforous area is of great extent, and has been bought up by a powerful syndicate, who contemplate the sale of such claims as they are unable themselves to work. The news seems too good to be true, but if it be confirmed. then we are on the eve of an economic revolu-

The pursuit of "the grand sport" in India has brought to the front a lady tiger-killer of great skill and prowess in the person of Mrs. r vans Gordon. This fearless lady, as a member of the recent Cooch Behar hunting appedition, shot an angry tigress who was rushing viciously upon the party, and was actually within a few yards of her elephant's trunk. Her shot, we are told, was as well timed as it was well aimed, for the other gains sugaged, including that of the lady's husband. Major Evans Gordon, had failed to stop the furious brute. It is added that this brilliant achievement adds one more to he many laurels and trophics already won by this daunt less lady in the hunting grounds of Cooch

A subscriber to the telephone exchange asked to be placed in communication with his medical man. Subscriber: "My wife complains of a severe pain at the back of her neck and occasional nausea." Doctor: "She must have malaria." Subscriber: "What's best to be done?" At this moment the clerk at the central station alters the switch by mistake, and the unlucky husband received the reply of a mechanical engineer in answer to inquiries of a millowner. Engineer: "I believe the inside is lined with exceriotions to a considerable thickness. Let her cool during the night, and in the morning before firing up, take a hammer and pound her vigorously. Then get a garden hose with strong pressure from the main and let it play freely on the parts affected." To his great surprise the doctor never saw his client again.

A good story is told of Lord Mark Kerr, the eccentric but kindly and chivalrous soldier who ence commanded the Poons Division of the Bombay Army. Lord Mark had a strong belief at faith in dead heroes was a good thing for the army. When commanding at Poons, he presented a copy of "Blacker's Mohratta War". to each native regiment of the garrison, and he named certain streets in cantonments after "Korygaun," "Patterson," and so on: One night at Lord Mark's table a guest, who lad evidently not studied Indian history, asked who Korygaum was, and who was Patterson. "What P" said Lord Mark in a horrified tone : "A Bombay Officer and never heard of Korygaum, and Staunton, and Patterson? Good G-d P and relapsed into indignant silence. After dinner, the unfortunate and sorely-puzzied great was heard complaining to a friend over H., Canton, & M., a cheroot in the versudah, "Lord Mark's madder indo-China S. N., then ever to night. How is a fellow to know Steam Launch about Korygaum, and Staunton, and Patterson P Trust & Lorn Co. ... Who are they?" Some of his confounded Scotch Watson & Co., A. S., relations, I suppose.

NOW ON SALE IMPERIAL QUARTO ENGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY. WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION.

An Anglo-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objeots in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and inscience generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, achieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration: Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medburst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst: this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples . this work contains more than five times, as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the nativesthemselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested
